What's going on today with King Gary?

It seems COVID has doomed us all. The far-right supremacist's challenge our safety for the benefit of the economy. They spit on the graves of baby kittens, but its okay.. I am alone in the forest and using my own urine to create ammonia for my hobby-garden's fertilizer.

okay.. I am alone in the forest and using my own urine to create ammonia for my hobby-garden's fertilizer.

It is okay though, I am busy these days with my homestead in the forest and in the evenings, when the fire is lit I fall asleep dreaming of the day I will watch Puccini Live again perform Turnadot.

"Let your roots hold firm, your heart hold true, and your spirit hold no fear."

It has been an extremely difficult couple of weeks being alone in the forest. This is not because of the conditions in the environment, but because of how mentally I can't seem to understand why people are refusing to inject themselves to understand why people are refusing to inject themselves with the influenza. All men, women, children and babies, including our pets and pregnant women should be forced to do the shots, or have their pay-checks confiscated by the government to fund liberal-bilateral movements to spread democracy around the world and regime changes

These fascist pigs we call our countrymen are voting for the conservative/republican party. How dare they cower with their tails between their legs and bend the knee. I can feel it their tails between their legs and bend the knee. I can feel it in the air.. there is an unsettling ambiance that courses through the veins, similar to freezing rain on a bare body in the dark cold evenings in the forest.

The feeling is rather tense, I feel a counter revolution as though a nation on the brink of war.

“Through storms, hold steady; in your heart, hold dear; against fear, hold courage”
